

I'm not a bot

Iowa bar exam results

The Iowa bar exam spans two days, with an extra day for registration beforehand. The test consists of the Multistate Performance Test, Multistate Essay Exam, and Multistate Bar Exam, but doesn't cover Iowa law. For MPT, Iowa evaluates two performance tests, and six essays are tested through MEE, covering various subjects including business, civil procedure, contracts, criminal law, real property, and more. The MBE part includes multiple-choice questions on topics like civil procedure, constitutional law, evidence, and real property. Notably, Iowa accepts transferred MBE scores from other jurisdictions, provided they're from one of the last four administrations before the Iowa bar exam filing deadline. The testing schedule involves a mandatory registration day followed by two days of exams: morning sessions for MPTs and MEE essays, and afternoon sessions for MBE parts I and II. The bar exam is held on the last Monday through Wednesday in February and July each year. Applications can be found on the Iowa Board of Law Examiners' website. Bar Exam Results by Jurisdiction - February 2025 Jurisdictions have released their pass rates for the February 2025 bar exam, which can be accessed by clicking on each jurisdiction's name. The results also include data from previous administrations, including July and February 2024. February 2025 Bar Exam Pass Rates | Jurisdiction | Overall Pass Rate | First-Timer Pass Rate | Repeater Pass Rate | Number of Examinees | Passing Score | Results Release Date | | -- | -- | | -- | -- | | -- | -- | | Alabama | 28% | 46% | 17% | 32,326 | Yes | April 25 | | Alaska | 48% | 75% | 23% | 27,070 | Yes | April 23 | | Arizona | 50% | 65% | 29% | 53,272 | Yes | April 18 | Detailed Statistics The table below lists the pass rates for each jurisdiction. Detailed annual statistics are available on the Bar Examiner website. February 2024 Bar Exam Results The table below shows the pass rates for the February 2024 bar exam in each US state and territory. The results are based on data provided by each jurisdiction after their exam scores were released. Pass Rates by State/Territory * Alabama: 32% overall, 52% first-timers, 20% repeaters (280 examinees) * Alaska: 42% overall, 49% first-timers, 31% repeaters (452 examinees) * Arizona: 46% overall, 62% first-timers, 25% repeaters (262 examinees) * Arkansas: 50% overall, 63% first-timers, 44% repeaters (822 examinees) * California: 34% overall, 45% first-timers, 29% repeaters (3,944 examinees) * Colorado: 59% overall, 73% first-timers, 46% repeaters (254 examinees) * Connecticut: 37% overall, 55% first-timers, 26% repeaters (187 examinees) * Delaware: 47% overall, 65% first-timers, 34% repeaters (110 examinees) * District of Columbia: 45% overall, 52% first-timers, 37% repeaters (667 examinees) * Florida: 41% overall, 56% first-timers, 29% repeaters (1,328 examinees) * Georgia: 52% overall, 70% first-timers, 38% repeaters (501 examinees) And so on for each state and territory The table also shows the number of examinees who passed the exam in each jurisdiction, as well as the minimum passing score. The results are available by clicking on each jurisdiction's name. Note: I've removed some of the extraneous details from the original text to make it easier to read. Let me know if you'd like me to add anything back in! Here is the rewritten text: ##### Bar Exam Results Release Dates by State - February 2021* We're keeping track of when bar exam results will be released in each state. Below, you'll find the information for your jurisdiction. Alabama: Yes, April 17 Alaska: N/A (no February exam) Arizona: Yes, April 3 Arkansas: Yes, April 10 California: Yes, April 26 Colorado: Yes, April 26 Connecticut: Yes, April 24 Delaware: Yes, April 8 Florida: Yes, April 17 Georgia: Yes, April 3 Hawaii: N/A (no February exam) Idaho: Yes, April 12 Illinois: Yes, April 10 Indiana: Yes, April 10 Iowa: Yes, April 10 Kansas: Yes, April 15 Kentucky: Yes, April 17 Louisiana: Yes, April 24 Maine: Yes, April 10 Maryland: Yes, April 12 Massachusetts: Yes, April 26 Michigan: Yes, April 15 Minnesota: Yes, April 9 Mississippi: Yes, April 12 Missouri: Yes, April 3 Montana: Yes, April 17 Nebraska: Yes, April 12 Nevada: No, May 1 New Hampshire: Yes, April 26 New Jersey: Yes, April 26 New Mexico: Yes, April 12 New York: Yes, April 24 North Carolina: Yes, April 3 North Dakota: Yes, April 9 Ohio: Yes, April 26 Oklahoma: No, May 10 Oregon: Yes, April 26 Pennsylvania: Yes, April 12 Rhode Island: Yes, April 26 South Carolina: Yes, April 26 South Dakota: No, See jurisdiction Tennessee: Yes, April 12 Texas: Yes, April 15 Utah: Yes, April 12 Vermont: Yes, April 10 Virginia: No, April 19 Washington: Yes, April 12 West Virginia: Yes, April 2 Wisconsin: No, April 2 Wyoming: Yes, April 11 Guam: N/A (no February exam) Northern Mariana Islands: N/A (no February exam) Palau: N/A (no February exam) Bar Exam Information and Results for Various States Our company specializes in helping students pass the bar exam, with thousands of students passing every administration. We offer private tutoring nationwide and a five-star-rated full bar prep course at a discounted rate. We assist first-time takers and those who have failed before to help them pass the next bar exam. For more information on post-bar exam advice, read our Other Bar Exam Information section. ##### Alabama Bar exam results are typically released eight to nine weeks after the administration for February and July exams. In February 2021, 39.4% of takers passed. Passing score is 260/400 (130 out of 200-point scale). Applicants will receive their score summary via mail a couple of days after the exam. ##### Alaska Results are typically released within 90 days for both February and July exams. In February 2021, 66.7% of takers passed. Passing score is 280/400 (140 out of 200-point scale). Applicants will receive an email notification when results are released, followed by a U.S. mail notification. ##### Other States We provide in-depth guides and resources for other states' bar exam information, including tips for passing and failing, as well as advice on moving forward after failing the Uniform Bar Exam. Arizona: For both February and July results, you'll find out in 9 weeks if you failed the bar exam. If you're interested in an in-depth guide on what to do next, check this excellent free resource. The February 2021 results were released on May 14, with a 56% pass rate. You can check your score and see the names of successful applicants on the Arizona Court webpage. Arkansas: For both February and July results, you'll know your result by early April, while July takers will find out in early September. The state's February 2021 results were released on April 2. You can check the names of successful applicants on the Arkansas courts website. California: You'll find out your result around 12-15 weeks after taking the bar exam. When the results are posted online, you'll need to log in with your applicant and file numbers to see if your name is on the pass list. The state's February 2021 results were released on May 7. Law Work in California After Passing the Bar Exam If you have passed the California Bar Examination, your essay and performance test answers will not be mailed to the address of record. Applicants who failed the examination will receive their scores approximately four to six weeks after results are released. Re-grade or appeals are not offered, as a "regrade" process is built into the grading system. To pass the first phase, an applicant must have a total scale score of at least 1440 out of 2000 possible points. Those with lower scores fail the examination. Applicants with scores between 1390 and 1440 are read twice by different graders to determine if they passed. If their average score meets or exceeds 1440, they pass the examination. Applicants who failed after two readings will have their answers reviewed for resolution of any discrepancies. If the issue is resolved, their answer will be replaced with a new grade. Results are typically released in nine weeks for February and July exams. If you didn't make it past the Uniform Bar Exam time around, don't be too hard on yourself! There's a wealth of information available to help you get back on track. For instance, theres an excellent free guide that goes into great detail about what to do if you failed the exam. Connecticut's February 2021 bar exam results were made public on April 23rd, 2021. To check your status, simply head over to the Connecticut Bar examinee home page at www.jud.ct.gov/cbec/results.html and see if your name is on the pass list. As for past results, you can find them here: [\[insert link\]](#). Notably, in February 2020, the overall pass rate was 39.9% (46 out of 137), while October 2020 saw a significantly higher pass rate at 67.5% (270 out of 400). In terms of scoring, you'll only see your mark if you didn't make it through - passing candidates won't be privy to their exact scores. However, applicants who scored between 254 and 265 will have their written examination answers reviewed. On the other hand, Delaware tends to announce results about 11 weeks after the exam date. You can check your status on their website at www.courts.delaware.gov/BBE/2015barresults.aspx. Keep in mind that Delaware doesn't administer a February bar exam. Florida's pass/fail results are typically available within 6-8 weeks of the exam, and individual scores will be sent via U.S. mail. If you failed the Florida bar exam, don't worry - it just means you might need to adjust your strategy! You can find more information on how to approach this in an upcoming guide. Florida's February 2021 bar exam results were released on April 12th, 2021, with a pass rate of 62.4% (441 out of 659). To check your status online, you'll need to know your applicant file number, which can be found at the top right corner of all board correspondence. Lastly, it's worth noting that Florida offers two methods for passing the exam: individual or overall. If you didn't pass both Part A and Part B individually but did manage to average out a decent score, you might still have a shot! A and Part B score of at least 136 indicates successful completion of the General Bar Examination. Examinees can expect to receive their individual scores via mail within a week after pass/fail results are posted online. For Part A examinees with scores near the pass/fail line, essay papers were automatically regraded by an independent reader. However, no additional regrades can be offered once the examination scores are approved and released to applicants. Results for February and July bar exams are typically released within 13 weeks from the exam date. Examinees will receive notification of their results through the Admission Documents tab on the User Home Page and also posted online. The passing score for the General Bar Examination is 270/400 (135 out of 200-point scale), and examinees who pass can expect to receive their score with an MBE and total essay score breakdown. * Successful applicants for the February 2020 exam received a pass rate of 52.8%, while those who took the July 2020 exam had an overall pass rate of 976.7%. * In October 2020, the bar exam results showed a 29% overall pass rate. * The passing score is set at 272 out of 400 (136 out of 200-point scale). * Idaho does not release essay scores for successful applicants; however, MBE scores may be obtained by sending a written request to the Idaho State Bar after the results are released. * Re-grade or appeals are not offered for Illinois bar exams results. The examiner's website is available for more information. * For Indiana bar exam results, examinees will receive an individual email notification regarding their results. They can also check the Indiana Board of Law Examiners' home page to see if their name appears on the pass list. * The Indiana Board offers a step-by-step guide to help applicants who fail the bar exam get back on track. For the Iowa bar exam results, click here to visit the examiner's website.IowaWhen Examinees Receive Their Results: For both February & July exams: Within 6 weeks. Iowa's February 2021 bar exam results were released on April 9, 2021. How Examinees Get Their Results: Applicants can check the Iowa Board of Law Examiners' home page to see if their names are on the pass list. Those who failed will only have their names posted, while those who passed will get a confirmation letter in the mail. Statistics and Pass List: For February 2020 examinees: 46.7% overall pass rate (28/60). For July 2020 examinees: 82.7% overall pass rate (134/162). To qualify, you need a score of at least 266/400 (133 out of 200 points). Will I see My Score? Yes, individuals will receive their scores through the mail. If your combined score is between 260 and 266, your written answers will be reviewed before results are released. A petition to the Supreme Court can be filed in exceptional cases. See Rule 31.11. Will I see My score? If you passed, we do not think you'll get your score. If you got cut other info, let us know. Do they have re-grading or appeals? There's an Auto Re-grade before final results come out. Your answers are only re-graded if your average score is between 73 and 74.99. During this process, graders can raise scores if needed or leave them the same, but not lower them. No appeal process after results are released. Maine When do you find out? For Feb exam, 5-6 weeks. July exams take 8-9 weeks. In LA, Feb results were posted on April 26, 2021, with a 51% pass rate. How Examinees Find Out: Results are on the state's website and at the Supreme Court building. They won't tell anyone until they're posted. Individual results get mailed to each person. Committee staff can't give out scores over phone. Passing Score: In LA, you need a total weighted score of 650/900. There are nine exams: five "Code" and four "Non-Code." Nine subjects are tested, with Code worth credit as much as Non-Code. Will I see My score? Yes, but if you passed, it's unlikely. The bar exam results for various states include information on how examinees can find out their scores and the overall passage rate. In Maryland, examinees can expect to receive their official results via regular mail within 8-9 weeks for February examinees and 13-14 weeks for July examinees. The unofficial listing of pass/fail results is typically posted online by the State Board of Law Examiners. The statistics show a 38.7% overall pass rate for February 2020 examinees, with 117 out of 302 passing, and a 70.1% overall pass rate for October 2020 examinees, with 564 out of 805 passing. The minimum passing score is set at 406. Similarly, in Massachusetts, examinees can expect to receive their results via US postal service within approximately 8 weeks for February examinees and 12 weeks for July examinees. The overall passage rate for February 2020 was 36.8%, with 158 out of 429 passing, while the overall passage rate for July 2020 was 76.7%, with 105 out of 1323 passing. The minimum passing score in Massachusetts is also set at 270/400 (135 out of 200-point scale). Notably, an automatic regrade procedure is built into the process for examinees who receive a Total Scaled Score between 264 and 270. Results Release Timelines for Law Examinations Across the US February 2020: Results posted by seat number on the Board's website, with pass rates of 59.6% overall, passing score: 270/400 (135 out of 200-point scale). Appeals can be re-graded. July 2020: Results posted by seat number on the Board's website, with a pass rate of 70.3% overall after appeals; passing score: 270/400 (135 out of 200-point scale). February 2021: Results released on April 19, 2021. July 2020: Results released approximately two weeks before February 2021 results. Minnesota Bar Exam February 2020: Results posted by seat number on the Board's website, with a pass rate of 51.2% overall; passing score: 260/400 (130 out of 200-point scale). July 2020: Results released approximately two weeks before February 2021 results. September 2020: Results released approximately one week after July results. February 2021: Results released on April 16, 2021. Mississippi Bar Exam February 2020: Results posted by seat number on the Board's website, with a pass rate of 58.2% overall; passing score: 270/400 (135 out of 200-point scale). July 2020: Results released approximately two weeks before February results. February 2021: Results released approximately one week after July results. Common Practices * Individual examinees receive notification of their results via their Applicant Portal. * Appeals can be re-graded for some states. * Pass rates and passing scores may vary by state. Missouri bar exam results are not immediately available online. The website courts.ms.gov provides information, but statistics and pass lists are only published weeks after the exam date. Examinees who fail the MBE or MSE exams receive a detailed report of their scores at no cost. Those who pass can request a score report for $25. A re-grade is automatic for applicants scoring between 129 and 131.9, while failing applicants can petition for review within 45 days, focusing on specific misgraded questions. The Petition for Review is reviewed by a committee of the Board, and if denied, the applicant can appeal to the Chancery Court within 30 days. Missouri releases bar exam results approximately 7 weeks after the exam date. For February 2020 examinees, overall pass rate was 49.8%. For July 2020, it was 84.2%. Passing score is 260/400 (130 out of 200-point scale). The "Report of Exam Scaled Scores" will show the applicant's scaled essay, MBE and UBE scores on their homepage. Appeals are not allowed prior to results release as scores undergo verification and proofing beforehand. Some applicants may see regraded answers if their preliminary total score falls within a certain range. However, graders don't know what scores were initially assigned, and the set score range is kept secret. If you failed, don't lose hope! You can strategize for the future with this blog post or read an in-depth guide on what to do when failing the Uniform Bar Exam. Applicants approved by the Court are required to take an oath before practicing law. Exam statistics and pass lists: February 2020: Statistics not available. July 2020: Statistics not available. Passing score: 270/400 or 135 out of 200 points. The written notification for each applicant's status is provided, but it's unclear if the exact score is disclosed. In Nebraska, you can share whether your score is visible if you passed in the comments below. Appeals are not offered. However, failed applicants may inspect their paper within 10 days after results are announced. For more information, visit the examiner's website by clicking here. Nevada: Exam results are released 8 weeks after the exam. In February 2021, 60% of takers passed. To find out your status, check the official website or call the office after 3 pm Pacific Time on the release date. Statistics and pass lists: February 2020: 52% overall pass rate. August 2020: 64.0% overall pass rate. Passing score: 75 (140 out of 200 points). If you fail, your scores and formula will be sent to you. However, those who passed won't receive their essay scores but will get their MBE scaled score upon written request only. No appeals or re-grading are offered in Nevada. For more information, visit the examiner's website by clicking here. New Hampshire: Typically, exam results take 10 weeks to be released. If you fail, don't worry - there are resources available to help you move forward. Statistics and pass lists: February 2020: Statistics currently unavailable. July 2020: Statistics currently unavailable. Passing score: 270/400 or 135 out of 200 points. New Hampshire publicly posts the names of all individuals who pass the bar exam on their website, while individual scores are privately mailed. Appeals are not believed to be offered in New Hampshire. For more information, visit the examiner's website by clicking here. New Jersey: There is no projected release date for the results, but typically, February examinees can expect it sometime in May, and July examinees sometime in November. If you fail the New Jersey bar exam, there are resources available to help you move forward. Statistics and pass lists: February 2020: Statistics not available. July 2020: Statistics not available. Passing score: 270/400 or 135 out of 200 points. The official website will have more information on how to proceed, we can help you figure out what went wrong and how to fix it! If you would like to read an in-depth guide on what to do if you failed the Uniform Bar Exam, please see this excellent free guide. New Jersey's February 2021 bar exam results were released on May 7, 2021. To find your score, check the state bar's website for a list of passed applicants or wait for it to be sent to you. Statistics show that in February 2020, 201/449, or 44.8%, passed the exam and October 2020 had 930/1406, or 66.1%, pass rate. The passing score is around 266/400, which translates to a 133 out of 200-point scale. You will see your score if you check the state bar's website. However, re-grading is not an option unless your combined score falls between 260 and 271.9. A detailed guide on the re-grading process can be found here. New Mexico If you failed the New Mexico bar exam, we have a step-by-step guide to help you get back on track! To find out your results, wait around six to eight weeks or check the board's website for a list of successful applicants. In February 2021, 72% of takers passed. You will receive an email with the results as soon as they are posted online. The passing score is 260/400, which translates to 130 out of 200-point scale. A re-grading process is available for those who scored within six points below the minimum passing score. New York If you failed the New York bar exam, we have a guide on what to do next. You can expect your results in May or November, depending on whether it was February or July exam. Check our post on when results are released here. In February 2021, 49.5% of takers passed. You will receive an email with the results as soon as they are posted online. The bar examination results for applicants will be electronically notified. On the day of release, a private online screen will be available to view results. The following day, a list of successful applicants will be posted on this website and the New York Law Journal. For February 2020 examinees, there was an overall pass rate of 40.1% (1430/3563). In October 2020, the pass rate increased to 83.9% (4319/5150). Passing score: 266/400 (133 out of 200-point scale). You will see your score, but there is no opportunity to appeal a final score. The MPT and MEE answers for applicants who receive a total weighted scaled score of 262-265 will be re-graded before the release of results. For more information: click here. Average scores are calculated for examinees. There are no appeals as scores are final. For more information: Visit the examiner's website. Ohio * Examinees receive results in 9 weeks for February and 12 weeks for July. * A complete list of applicants is published on the Supreme Court of Ohio's website, and results are mailed a few days later. * In February 2021, results were released on April 30. * Pass rates: 49.2% for February 2020 and 77.4% for October 2020. * The passing score is 270/400 (135 out of 200-point scale). * Scores are sent to exam takers by mail, and results are released on the examiner's website. Oklahoma * Results are posted online in about 7 weeks. * A letter with test results and admission status is mailed to each applicant who took the exam. * In February 2021, 73/98 passed for a 74% overall passage rate. * The passing score is 264/400 (132 out of 200-point scale). * Each applicant receives their MBE exam scores, and automatic regrading is done prior to results release. Oregon * Results are posted online in about 5-6 weeks for both February and July exams. * If you fail the Oregon bar exam, a guide on planning your next attempt can be found. * In February 2021, 64% of takers passed. * All successful applicants receive information on admission ceremony, bar membership, and other relevant details. For February 2020 exams: - Overall pass rate was 59.5%, with a total score of 274/400. - Past statistics are available. - For July 2020, overall pass rate is 95%. - Passing score in October 2020 is 67.6%. In Pennsylvania: - Results for February 2021 were released in April, showing a 51.1% pass rate. - In mid-April, February examinees typically receive their results. - Past statistics can be found on the examiner's website. For MBE scores and essay answers in Pennsylvania: - You will see your individual score. - Scores are not appealable once released. In Rhode Island: - Overall pass rate for February 2021 was 65%. - Results were typically released after 10 weeks of taking the exam. - More information can be found on the examiner's website. The results for the bar exam are typically posted online on the state's judiciary website and at the Supreme Court Clerk's Office. A list of passing applicants will also be available on these platforms. In addition, each applicant will receive a letter in the mail with their score. The results should be posted between 12:00 pm and 2:00 pm. Applicants can check the statistics and pass lists for different exam periods, which show the overall passage rate and number of applicants who passed. For example, in February 2020, 28 out of 66 examinees passed, resulting in a 41% overall passage rate. In September/October 2020, 66% of examinees passed. The passing score is 276/400, which corresponds to 138 out of 200 points. Applicants will be able to see their scores online, but they will not receive individual scores for each essay and MPT. However, they will receive an MBE breakdown and written breakdown. Re-grades or appeals are available in some states, but the process may vary. For more information on re-grading or appeals, applicants can check the examiner's website. The time it takes to receive results varies by state, but typically ranges from 8 weeks for February examinees to 12 weeks for July examinees. If an applicant fails the bar exam, they should review their score and consider changing their approach for future exams. For guidance on how to move forward after failing the Uniform Bar Exam, applicants can consult online resources and guides. Note: The specific details may vary depending on the state where the bar exam was taken. Hence article text here To find the results of your Uniform Bar Exam, follow these steps: - Check your email for the Utah Board of Examiners notification. - The email includes your total scores, including MBE and written sections. For Vermont's bar exam: - Wait 8-10 weeks after the February or July result release date to get your score. - If you fail, check our blog post to diagnose why you failed and learn how to move forward with studying. In Virginia: - Check the results page on their website for the expected release date of the most recent Bar Examination. - A list of passing applicants will be posted in alphabetical order at that time. If you fail the exam in Washington State, your scores will be made public so that you can use this information to improve for future exams. There's no option to appeal or re-grade your results after they are finalized. However, there is automatic re-grading of essay and short answer papers for applicants who initially scored close to but below the minimum passing score. This process involves re-reading approximately 10% of exam scripts from those who didn't pass the initial time around. The aim is to see if any answers might warrant an extra point or two, demonstrating sufficient competence. After re-grading, scores are final and unappealable. If you're curious about your Washington State bar exam results, typically it takes 6 weeks for both February & July exams to be released. Failed examinees can find resources on how to adjust their approach in a related post. For those looking for an in-depth guide on what to do if they failed the Uniform Bar Exam, there's an excellent free resource available. As for when and how examinees receive their results, the Washington State Bar Association posts pass lists with applicants' names publicly after the release date. Statistics and pass lists for previous exams are also available online. For those who didn't pass, unsuccessful applicants will receive copies of their written essays and performance exam questions along with their raw scores but no further information or materials will be provided. In West Virginia, results typically take 7 weeks to be released after the February & July exams. If you failed the West Virginia bar exam, there's a post offering guidance on next steps. For more in-depth advice, an excellent free guide is available for those who want to know what to do if they failed the Uniform Bar Exam. In terms of receiving results, a pass and fail list is posted online by the West Virginia Judiciary, with official results mailed directly to examinees at their registered addresses. Will applicants see their scores? Currently, there is no information available regarding whether applicants can view their scores. If you're in Wisconsin or Wyoming and have insights on this topic, please share them in the comments below! In Wisconsin: * If an applicant fails to pass the examination, they may review their exam papers within 20 days. * There's no information provided about a re-grading process or appeals. Wisconsin bar exam results are typically released six weeks after the exam date. If you failed the exam, it's crucial to identify your shortcomings and work on improving them. In Wyoming: * Applicants will be personally notified of their pass or fail status. * There is no clear information about how the Board notifies applicants of their exam results, but the webpage suggests that applicants should expect a review by the Character and Fitness Committee and the Board of Law Examiners (BLE), followed by a recommendation to the Wyoming Supreme Court. Wyoming's February 2021 bar exam results were released on April 9, 2021, with an 86% pass rate. February Bar Exam Results Update In the United States, bar exam results can be released in varying time frames depending on the state. Wyoming: Wyoming does not release its bar exam scores online but instead uses a paper-based system. To find out when your score will be available, you can check with the District of Columbia Bar Association for more information. Will I see My score after taking the Guam Bar Examination? The Board's policy on this matter is unclear. However, applicants who fail to obtain a passing score will receive written notice by certified mail, including their score and the option to appeal. Notice of Non-Pass Score ----- The notice shall contain information such as: - Failure to pass the examination - Denial of admission to the Guam Bar - Score on the MBE and Essay/MPT examination or MPRE - Information on how to file an appeal Timeframe for Appeal ----- Applicants must file a written request for review within 30 days of receiving the notice. Re-grade or Appeals Offered? ----- Yes, applicants can review the essay portion of the exam and/or file an appeal if eligible. The applicant can select up to three essays for re-grading. To access results, provide last name and social security information. Notification details unclear. Puerto Rico residents, please share in comments. Statistics: - Sep 2018: 216/578 (37.4% pass rate) - Mar 2019: 30/167 (18.0% pass rate) Passing score: - Multiple-choice: 66 percentage points - Essay: "pass" Score visibility unclear. Appeals process: Passers who fail the essay part are referred to the District Examination Committee for re-evaluation. Our exam course and exclusive pass guarantee program are now available.***