However, I recently bought a Macbook pro and I was wondering if I would be able to use the Mods on it. I've successfully got it to work with this general configuration:You'll need Wineskin Winery - ... =DownloadsCreate a new wrapper, and run Winetricks under the Advanced tab.Install d3d_x36 for sure, and other tools for Madden require the .NET framework, so go ahead and install dotnet30.Then, install your copy of Madden into the wrapper.After that's completed, go into Screen Settings, and set them to run as a virtual desktop at the current resolution. This fixes a bug where the mouse is unable to go below the top of the screen.You should be good after that. If you need some more help, then feel free to ask. You can also install TexMod into this same wrapper, and just point Wine to open that .exe to use your tpf's. To install the FF mod, the Madden NFL 08 folder should show up in your Documents folder, and you can install the mod as usual by placing the mod's files in there. teeibrooks Rookie Posts: 6 Joined: Tue Feb 25, 2014 10:49 am Postby teeibrooks » Wed Feb 26, 2014 5:27 pm Thank you my brother for the quick response. Sorry to be a noobie, but how exactly do you get from having Wine installed to having Madden open? I've got a wrapper on the latest engine. Once the wrapper icon shows, I dragged my Madden 08 .exe file onto the wrapper but received an error code and it will not load. I made sure to install .NET framework and another one related to HTML (auto prompted when I created the wrapper). adoreizi Pro Bowl Posts: 68 Joined: Mon Jun 09, 2014 2:59 pm Location: California Postby adoreizi » Sun Oct 23, 2016 2:55 pm Bagel wrote:teeibrooks wrote:I used the mods for Madden 08 several years ago for my windows computer and loved it. My Madden application is a Mac version, not Windows. Then I just put the Mod files in the right location: Hard Drive/Users/YOUR NAME/Library/Preferences/Madden NFL 08 Preferences/p_drive/My Documents. All editing is done in Windows 7 through BOOTCAMP. Again, Madden itself is a Mac version.Can someone tell me how to solve the mouse problem? It can no longer align with the options on the screen. To select FRANCHISE I need to point the mouse at the top of the screen. Not sure if you have this problem solved, but if you update the OS to Mojave, the problem fixes itself Return to "FAQs" Jump to Users browsing this forum: No registered users and 1 guest madden nfl 08 mac download free
